Women start here:

As soon as a man begins dating you, he starts using his Boyfriend Supernatural Sensitivities. Similar to his hunting DNA, he has a pseudo-psychic ability (you've probably noticed this) wired into him to scan you.

He predicts if he wants to go the distance with you in marriage or drag you along indefinitely in a relationship convenient to him.

Of course, he's not going to announce this, but your evolvment in relationship-land is to learn the 3 True-Wife Qualities a guy scans you for each day and make sure that you are on it.

In fact, these qualities are enhancers (shall I say reminders) for your own life in romance anyway. The more you consistently invest in the full-expression of you first, and the budding relationship second, you will be a natural at these 3 True-Wife Qualities.

But if you shift focus to trying to get him, all bets are off.

He likes you expressing the uniqueness of you not obsessing or controlling him to win him. He'd rather win you.

If you implement each point in this short list, you find it leads to a marriage proposal instead of the slow fade relationship that goes nowhere. Let's get into it.

The 3 True-Wife Qualities He Qualifies You For Everyday

If you are in a slow relationship with a great guy that is not advancing, it's most likely that you are failing his 3 True-Wife Qualities in one or more categories.

He may love you, and see potential, but he won't advance until you satisfy the 3 True-Wife Qualities.

These qualities are all vibrational (energy). None of them are external attributes like how much money you make, what size you are, what your hair color is, how smart you are, where you work, what car you drive or which school you attended.

1. He's studying your BODY LANGUAGE

Stay with me. Yes, he will check out your body. That's what guys do (and you), but I'm not talking about having sex.

When he's using his Boyfriend Supernatural Sensitivities, he goes deeper to check your body LANGUAGE towards HIM. It's very primal.

- Does your body language read impatient because you're drumming your fingers on the table while he's talking as you wait to jump in? He wants your active listening: eyes to his eyes listening rather than figuring out what you want to say.
- Does your body language read busy--too busy--because you are always multi-tasking in front of him with an occasional "uh-huh" as he talks? He wants your undivided attention.

The 3 True-Wife Qualities Guys Scan For Everyday

- Does your body language read competitive, challenging, aggressive as you stand in front of him arms crossed, or one-upping him as though he will be proud? He wants ease with you and prefers you in feminine body language which is a receptive language--with him. Leaning back from him, instead of into him so that he can come towards you.
- Does your body language read mom-like? Are you hovering, helping him, doing for him, trying to make his life easier? You may feel soothed doing these maternal behaviors, but he strongly dislikes it.
- Does your body language read masculine as you body launch onto him when he walks through the door smothering him in kisses? To a secure alpha male, it feels mom like to him.

2. He's checking for TONE AND WORD CONGRUENCY

- When you get triggered it's your own issues. If you don't check yourself (which takes a lot of self-awareness to do in the moment), fears boil and you verbally attack blaming him. He wants you to deal with your own triggers and he his.
- Do you yell at him "Don't you know I love you while interrogating him over why did he failed you on? He needs your love proclamations to match a tone of love and your inquiry without blame as he seeks compatibility with you, or why give up his singledom?

The 3 True-Wife Qualities Guys Scan For Everyday

- Do you claim helplessness when you simply want his attention? He is looking for a woman who can handle most things in life and adore you for being you not for being a victim.
- Do you profess how you want to spend more time with him and then when he asks you out, you squish him into the one hour you can find or the opposite, you put your life on hold to be available to him? Rearrange things if they are easily rescheduled and make yourself available if you want to date the man.
- Do you not express your opinion at all or the opposite, stuff your opinion as though his opposing opinion is more valid? Either way, your tone and words are off and he finds it all too unsavory for a lifetime of that.
- Do you expect him to be a mind reader and fill in the blank of your needs? Not only are men not mind readers, they want you to maturely share your feelings in a non-judgemental way so he can understand what page you are on.

3. He's reading your ENERGY aka vibe

- Are you closed off to him? He will feel rejection--and you as well.
- Do you exude that you must be right or all hell will break lose? There must be an underlying energy that you both care so much for each other that that is of the utmost importance--not being right which is a needy illusion of self-worth.

The 3 True-Wife Qualities He Qualifies You For Everyday

- Do you convey loner energy that you don't need him for anything? He needs to see a sense of vulnerability, that you aren't a robot of perfection. Feeling your feelings is needed for you and for him to understand what's going on with you. Remember, guys aren't mind readers.
- Is your energy all about control? Controlling him, controlling your environment, controlling that he behave and act a certain way? No matter how much you mask this side, he with his Boyfriend Supernatural Sensitivities is picking it up. If he's a great guy, he will think twice because right around the corner is you mothering him.
- Speaking of mothering, many women love to mother a guy. To him mothering=smothering. To you mothering=soothing. But he reads that vibe of yours and the last thing an alpha guy wants is for his romantic woman to be his mother.
- Do you generally care for him without being desperately needy of his time and attention? The latter is a sure fire way to be ruled out as a potential wife.
- Did you change from the woman he met and dated early on? If you catch yourself focused on him, trying to make yourself sexier, more perfect, putting your life on hold to be available at him, second guessing what he wants in you and generally contorting yourself away from you, he will not consider you for marriage. Why? Because you're vibe is not real. He doesn't know who you are. He wants you anchored in you. Unique you. That is important to a guy.

The 3 True-Wife Qualities He Qualifies You For Everyday

- -Do you have a feminine energetic vibe (receptive) vs. masculine energy (work or mothering mode)? No alpha guy wants a relationship with a dude.

Conclusion

Sharing this fascinating information from the Law of Romance enlightens you-- he really is paying attention to every aspect of you when you thought he wasn't.

He's much more quality driven than what media has led you to believe. He's not shallow and non-committal. Without telling you, he's always scanning and qualifying you for the 3 True-Wife Qualities.

With this guide, you enter a romantic relationship with a greater sense of maturity so that the fun, silly, intimate and passionate times can fill your advancing, not stalling, relationship.

If you are consistent on these points, the man will want to walk off into the sunset of forever with you married.

If you are serious about maturing into these qualities and want accountability and coaching, I have a few phone sessions available with me or video programs that are wildly fun and enlightening.

Don't ask a woman these questions if you want a date

1. "So, what do you look for in a guy?"

This is like a job interview question, "Why should we hire you?" or "What describes your workplace personality?" The question isn't fun, it takes too long to answer. Instead ask her, "Ok. If you had to vacation in the mountains or the near the ocean which one would you pick?"

2. "Wow, how is it you're not taken?"

Terrible question. It's basically saying "what's wrong with you?" Instead ask, "Have you tried the food at ____ restaurant? Did you like it?"

3. "What was your last relationship like?"

Arrgh. Stay out of the past. Dates are supposed to be fun. Don't bring up pain. Stay with her in the present. Tell her she "looks great" and you're glad you're meeting.

4. "How has online dating been for you?"

It's none of your business. Ask her what hobbies that she enjoys.

Thanks! Stay tuned for great emails.
I look forward to getting to know you.
